

About Us

At Elevatus, we're designed to do more. We make sure our designs, however unique and innovative, always reflect and exceed our clients' vision. We're not just designers. We're creators, visionaries, innovators and thought leaders. Fueled by passion and talent, our people bring new ideas to solve challenging problems. Our depth of expertise spans disciplines from justice and government to education, hospitality, retail, technology, aviation and more. Whether we're refreshing a retailer's brand, planning the revitalization of a historic campus into a buzzing mixed-use district, or designing a learning space, we strive to make the everyday places people occupy safer, more inspiring, more resilient, and more impactful.

What You'll Do

As an Elevatus designer, you'll combine creativity, storytelling, and technical knowledge with business skills and understanding to produce experience driven spaces for clients. You'll collaborate and develop in all phases of design, including programming, conceptual design, schematic design, design development, and construction documentation, and Construction Administration.

Our designers enhance the experience of the spaces we create. They are creative problem solvers who work to design spaces that reflect the needs of the client.

Your Qualifications

- Bachelor's degree in Interior Design from a CIDA-accredited school
- 3+ years of interior design experience, with a focus in commercial interiors
- Proficient in Revit, SketchUp, and other modeling software programs
- Proficient in Adobe Creative Suite applications (Photoshop, Illustrator, InDesign) and/or other graphics software programs
- Knowledge of Graphics and visualization modeling software programs (Lumion, Enscape)

Life at Elevatus

At Elevatus, we work hard, but we play hard, too, and we encourage each member of our team to lead a healthy and balanced life. We offer a comprehensive benefits package, 401k, and growth opportunities, as well as professional development and licensure sponsorship. If you want to grow, we'll help elevate you.
